

ADAMSON, Peter. Fakhr al-Dīn al-Rāzī on place.
Arabic Sciences and Philosophy, 27 ii (2017)
pp. 205-236. Examines "FDR's critique of Avicenna's physics, and in particular his rejection of the Avicennan and Aristotelian theory of place as the inner boundary of a containing body. Instead, FDR defends a definition of place as self-subsisting extension, an idea explicitly rejected by Aristotle and Avicenna."
